Sirius Escape is an impressive house located in Hurepiti Bay, on the beautiful island of Taha'a. This eco-friendly residence is located on a large lawn of hibiscus, palm and coconut trees, built with local wood from Taha'a and the neighboring islands. The commitment to sustainable development has guided its design: integrated solar panels, water purification system ... The key word of this house is: authenticity. Thatched roofs, comfortable hammocks, west-facing tropical terraces and gardens, an open dock marked by a straw fee to relax with bamboo shutters and garden sofas to enjoy stunning sunsets and natural beauty, similar to the painter's French Octave Morillot in the 1900s. The house is surrounded by a wooden terrace, a large open kitchen, a living room, three bedrooms and a luxurious bathroom. All fully furnished and tastefully equipped. Barbecue in the garden and a beautiful beach created to fully enjoy a night under the stars. The property is currently a guest house, but would also be suitable as a wonderful primary or secondary residence. The property also includes a jeep, bicycles, scooters, rowing, surfboards and kayaks, snorkeling, and sports equipment.
